» This typology has always been produced in Bystřice pod Hostýnem, and it is still appreciated for its simplicity and strength. To start with, there is a bent seat frame, which is attached to the legs with screws. The design is based on the principles of mass production, as in the classic bentwood models. This makes the chair sturdy and also allows for variations...«

» La Zitta (Italian for “the quiet one”) embodies timelessness, strength and versatility all in one. It reinterprets traditional, no-frills morphology with contemporary proportions and detailed craftsmanship. It was designed to be an ideal reflection of TON's manufacturing processes and technologies, tried and tested for generations both in the materials used and how they are processed.«

The La Zitta is versatile, durable and affordable, all of which make it a great choice for bistros and cafés. The matching La Zitta bar stool will also be welcomed in restaurants. Last but not least, La Zitta has a surprisingly comfortable cushioned seat which, combined with the chair's excellent ergonomics, makes La Zitta very suitable for fine dining and residential projects.
